HOME JOTTINGS.

Wanted, by the voters of Lincoln county, a candidate for Governor?

How will Lincoln county get along without a sheriff after next August?

A splendid chance to buy a good little farm, Read Freely Pearce's advertisement in our hand department.

Parties desiring to insure their property from fire will please remember that F. J. Campbell is still agent for the Royal. Cash capital $14,000,000.

Our jolly gentlemanly friend Finnell of the firm of Wheat & Chaney of Louisville, was in town taking orders last week. John had several new and good ones to tell.

The security of dwellings in Stanford compelled one of our best mechanics John H. Higgins, to remove to the country last week. He can appear in another column.

A few of our thoughtful citizens have seen proper to plant shade trees in front of their houses on our streets, and the practice of planting animals to them should be discontinued if it has to be done by a town ordinance.

We now have seventeen candidates for county officers. To-day we announce Mr. J. H. Carpenter for Assessor, who has a large number of friends in the different sections of the county, and would make an active, energetic officer.

We are informed that the Turnersville High School, which is now in session, is doing well. The circumstance is greatly regretted as it will, to some extent, damage the progress of this excellent school.

In the unfortunate affair which took place at the fair last Monday, an account of which will be found elsewhere, our estimate fellow-citizen, R. Blain, fell in the action, and being himself up to the neck in a whole pile of unperfected merchandise.

Read the important notice of Geo. E. Wood & Co. in our advertising columns this week. We say of our own knowledge they are offering their stock of Boots and Shoes at unusually low prices. You cannot fail to serve your interest by dealing with them.

Mr. L. R. Yates exchanged his hotel on corner of Main and Somerset Streets to Messrs. Ed and H. Henderson for their two dwelling houses and lots, receiving $500.00. The two dwellings are worth fully $500.00. A few more such trades and Low may retire from active business on a comfortable competency.

One of the great needs of Stanford and our sister town Somerset is a turnpike road connection. In building the Cincinnati Southern, it will be almost impossible to get along without a turnpike. We hope some of the enterprising citizens of both places will take hold of the matter and put it through at once.

The sight of a brand new two dollar bill has a wonderfully rejuvenating effect upon us at all times, but when in connection with one of these necessary lubricants, we saw the old familiar signature of our beloved friend R. E. Hoffman, of Harrodsburg, Montana, it set us all aglow with delight. How are you Dick? "Boy's life of etc."

The Mountain Echo, of Harrodsburg, has an intelligent correspondent at Oak Orchard. He made two slight mistakes in his last letter, however. Oak Orchard is not in the West End of Lincoln county, it is in the East End.

"Upon the European scale" commend us to Oak Orchard hotels for not only a good meal, but the downiest of beds.

If any of our citizens with a walk down Main Street, they will see that the oldest church building in our town greatly needs repairs. The fence is coming from the front and side. The front elevation is demolished and the steeple in a tottering condition. Why is it that our houses of worship are thus allowed to decay, while the grog-shops and the saloons receive all needed repairs? Surely there is a screw loose somewhere.

Mr. "Epiphany Prindle" better known at Harrodsburg as Nathan Woodcock, was in town a few days ago, representing the well-known firm of R. M. Bishop. Eph. has a handsome crew, he doesn't know it, and doesn't pretend to sell a plum-colored coat or a Cincinnati beret, but he wears it isn't that he took refuge behind the dash of his buggy when Bill brought a loaded battery to bear on him in front at his lively salute.

As a matter of courtesy we have, in reference to announcing candidates, and have inserted on promise to pay in a day or two, several announcements. If the promises of our friends are not complied with immediately, we will have to omit their notices. We'd as soon trust to the tongue of a divining rod as a man's word.

We have long since abandoned the injurious and unjust practice of quoting local market rates, under pretense, however, of very many southern subscribers, and hope our correspondents, especially on the "North Side," will follow the example of the discreet Southern press, and blow less about the long ears.

Resolutions of Respect.

STANFORD FEMALE COLLEGE, January 27, 1874.

WHEREAS, In the wisdom of Providence our Principal, Mrs. Sallie C. Tr. has been suddenly afflicted by the death of her mother, Mrs. Susan M. Myers, of Jefferson county, West Virginia, and since the 27th day of January has been appointed for her term; therefore we, the assistant teachers of the Stanford Female College, assembled together with the students, do this day tender the following resolutions, namely:

Resolved, That while we deeply deplore the loss of the good, kind and Christian mother and friend, we nevertheless, yield in humble submission and resignation to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That to the bereaved daughter, who was cherished the privilege of presence in the dying hour, we extend our heartfelt sympathies. And while we do not presume that our condolence will relieve the afflicted, yet we commend to the sorrowful the promise of Him who said: "Call upon me in the day of trouble, I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify Me."

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the INTERIOR JOURNAL, and a copy be sent to the Virginia Free Press for publication.

PULASKI COLUMN.

Edited by Will. O. Curd.

SOMERSET, KY., Jan. 30, 1874.

SUMMARY OF TOWN NEWS.

The Railroad Commissioners held their town this morning, to condemn the right of way on the South side of the Cumberland river and to the Whitely county line.

W. McKee Fox and Maj. Wallace, returned to Somerset last evening from Whitely county.

Cap. W. A. Collier, known engaged removing his goods to the large and commodious business house belonging to W. C. Davis, which has recently been put in excellent repair. Call and see the Captain one door below his old stand on Main street. You will always find him to be the same clever and accomplished merchant.

The Gem Comedy Troupe left our town this morning for the enterprising town of Monticello, and a number of our young gentlemen are already expressing their warm, hearty, and well-earned praise for the "Gem."

We learn that the young citizens of Somerset propose giving a grand "Ball" at our new court-house hall on the 23d of next month.

"ANOTHER GEM."

Another Gem was added to the Gem Comedy troupe on Friday evening last, during the play of "Fanchon the Cricket," and for one evening only, in the form of a young gentleman who travels in our section of the State for a certain wholesale house of Louisville, and the disguise not being complete his first appearance on the stage called forth the exclamation from one of the ladies of the audience, "Oh, that ain't Mr. Fox!" He is a part was pantomime and that of an old gentleman, however, he danced beautifully, and gracefully, and of course the ladies say he is certainly a "gem"—a rare, elegant jewel on the stage.

Our County court was in session several days last week.

Judge W. H. Pettus, John M. Barnett and C. W. Richardson, were appointed commissioners to condemn the right of way for the C. & S. R. through our county, who have entered upon their duties.

Thomas R. Hall tendered his resignation as sheriff of Pulaski county, which was received and Samuel Tate appointed to fill the vacancy, who immediately executed bond according to law, and entered upon the discharge of his duties as sheriff of our county.

The County Judge and Attorney, moved the court for an adjournment in addition to the $200 can here be allowed them, for service rendered from the 3d Monday in October 1872, up to 3d Monday in October 1873, which motion was rejected, to which the Judge and Attorney excepted and prayed an Appeal to the Circuit Court.

Whereas, Rev. H. J. Perry, our presiding Elder, has labored faithfully among us for past four years, and whereas Somerset Circuit has prospered under his superintendence. And whereas he has remained the full disciplinary term. Therefore be it

1. Resolved, By the Quarterly conference of Somerset Circuit M. E. Church. That we tender him our heartfelt thanks for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, as presiding Elder and his efficient labors as a faithful Minister of the Gospel of Christ, and pray that he may be spared long to our church and conference.

2. Resolved, That we will gladly welcome him as presiding Elder again whenever the authorities of our church may return him.

Resolved, Further that a copy of these resolutions be furnished for publication, to the Western Christian Advocate, and INTERIOR JOURNAL, and a copy given to Brother Perry.

JEREMIAH GOODWIN.

H. G. TRIMBLE.

TODAY'S ITEMS.

Phurlos & Duhler sell Groceries as cheap as any house in town.

Chover, Timothy, Orchard and Blue Grass needs at low prices for cash only.

Geo. D. Wearon is still selling good New Orleans Sugar at 10c per pound, White Coffee at 12c per pound, and Best Cold Oil at 25c per gallon, and Silver Drip Syrup at 75c per gallon.

The largest and finest monument in the Stanford cemetery is the one recently erected to the memory of the late Joseph McElister, deceased, by Messrs. Post & Clark, (not Post & Son) Marble Dealers of Louisville, Ky. The above firm has executed some of the finest monumental work of this and adjoining counties, and their prices have been reduced to correspond with the times, and they guarantee perfect satisfaction in all their work, all parties wishing work in their line will do well to give them a call before purchasing elsewhere. Mr. B. F. Phier, of Crab Orchard, is at present representing this house for the county of Lincoln, and all orders left with him will receive prompt attention.

We have repeatedly called the attention of our readers to the firm of Oter & Bro., Louisville, Ky., because we knew that we were subserving their interests in making mention of a house which deals so liberally with its patrons. Messrs. Oter & Bro. have now been engaged two years in manufacturing and wholesale dealing in Stoves, Cast-iron, Plain Stamped and Japanned Tinware, and as an evidence of their liberal dealing and satisfaction to their customers they have built up a very large and rapidly increasing trade and drawing it from old, established houses of experience. They handle and deal in the very best material. Our friend, A. T. Curd, who has been connected with this house since its first commenced business has severed his connection with the firm, and is now engaged with A. B. Burnam & Co. of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Frank Brinkley, of Pulaski county, has taken Mr. Curd's place with Messrs. Oter & Bro., and will in the future represent the trade of this portion of the State, being fully authorized to make settlement of all accounts and transact every character of business carried on by the firm. Our merchants cannot fail to advance their interests by dealing with this house. Brinkley will call to see you of ten. Hold yours for him.

Disinterested.

We stated in our last issue, that there were some suspicions to the effect that Mike Rodgers, the man who was found dead last week, had been murdered. Hence, a number of his neighbors concluded to disinter his remains and make a careful examination thereof, our County Judge, therefore ordered a physician to accompany several gentlemen, who had lived in the vicinity, and be present at the disinterment and examination of the body. After the body was again exposed, no marks of violence were found, and hence the Coroner's inquest was decided to be entirely satisfactory. The negro man who was last seen with poor Mike, has thus been freed from all complicity in the matter. We learn that the negro man aforesaid earnestly requested a disinterment of the body, in order to relieve himself from all suspicion and to testify the public in regard to the death of the unfortunate Mike Rodgers.

Wide-Awake.

It is reported by persons returning from court, at Liberty in Kentucky, that a desperate affray occurred in that place on Monday last. The prominent actors in the affray were James Fair and Leroy Napier—both young men; but the firing was for a time so general as to amount to a fusillade. Fair was slightly hit in the neck—Napier received two or three shots, one of which proved fatal almost immediately. It is rumored that some others were hurt. The tragedy is traced back to an old family feud, aggravated by frequent collisions. Fair was immediately arrested, and committed himself.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

By Our Special Correspondents.

HUNTONVILLE.

We are compelled to confess, however reluctantly, that we are spectators for this week—brought down upon our own club—down upon our own people—brought down upon our own people.

Some may remember that a short time since in the plenitude of our sympathy, we penned a requiem on the occasion of the death of Blain's dog. Like all who wish to give consolation in time of deep affliction, we felt anxious to know how our kindly attempt had succeeded; and like young poets, we felt solicitous about the young fledgling we had sent forth on an untried pinion.

Imagine, then, our intense gratification—our lofty elation—our ecstatic rapture, on receiving, by mail, the appreciative response which we venture to append to this.

It was not intended for publication, but we deem it too good to be lost.
